All University of Louisville MBA programs include:

- Cohort Structure: Students begin and finish the program as a cohort.
- Team Format: Students are assigned to a team at orientation and work with their team on various projects throughout the program.
- Global Opportunities: Students have the opportunity to travel abroad on a global business learning trip. With the exception of round-trip airfare, the majority of the expenses of the trip are included in the cost of tuition.
- Access to MBA Club Memberships: Currently, there are 12 MBA clubs available to students. Visit the MBA Clubs website for the complete list at <http://business.louisville.edu/mbaclubs/>
- Student Leadership Opportunities:
 - o MBA Class Representative: Two students from each cohort are elected by their classmates to serve as class representatives to administration and hold a seat on the MBA Student Association (RSO)
 - o MBA Club Leadership Positions
- Career Services: Lifelong, complimentary access to career services at the Ulmer Career Management Center. For more information, visit <http://business.louisville.edu/careers/>
